Areas of Strength

International studies and English education with a focus on developing a view toward service are the core of OJU's education. OJU builds upon three pillars to provide women with a firm foundation to build upon as they build the character of service and respect for others. These are Christian Education, Human Rights Education, and English Education. These three pillars provide a firm foundation for developing an international perspective and an understanding of how to take actions in the world to make it a better place.
